CONTESTS IN BOTH PARTIES BRING OUT VOTE IN TOWNSHIP

Keen Competition in Fight for Nomination for Several Offices

LEO LYNN IS WINNER

Smyrl, Seader and Taylor Are Also Successful in Election

Leo Lynn won the Republican nomination for justice of the peace in Bristol Township at the primary election held yesterday. There were four candidates in the field for the nomination, and their vote in the three districts tallied as follows:

Lynn, 532; Nickerson, 156; Zarr, 67; Britton, 257.

William H. Smyrl won the Republican nomination for school director, having obtained 594 votes, while his opponent, Ralph E. Linck, polled 388.

Harry B. Zobel won the nomination for supervisor when he polled 580 votes. His two opponents, Samuel Patterson, polled 302 votes, and James E. Riley, 100.

In the contest for township auditor, William S. Taylor polled 693 votes, while his opponent, Anna W. Armstrong, polled 243.

Joseph Seader won easily over Thomas Crawford in the contest for the nomination for constable. Seader received a total of 773 votes, while Crawford received 250.

The Republican vote in the districts was as follows:

West District:

Justice of peace, Lynn, 174; Nickerson, 43; Zarr, 24; Britton, 96.

School director, Smyrl, 178; Linck, 146.

Supervisor, Zobel, 203; Patterson, 96; Reilly, 55.

Lower District:

Justice of peace, Lynn, 218; Nickerson, 94; Zarr, 30; Britton, 30.

School director, Smyrl, 315; Linck, 43.

Supervisor, Zobel, 231; Patterson, 101; Reilly, 30.

Auditor, Taylor, 237; Armstrong, 124.

Constable, Crawford, 138; Seader, 252.

Judge of elections, McMackin, 104; English, 256.

Inspector of elections, Charles Winchester, 296.

The voting of Democrats in Bristol Township was spirited throughout yesterday, due principally to the rivalry of candidates for nomination to respective offices. The Democratic vote in Bristol Township for the local ticket was as follows:

Lower District—Justice of peace, Welker, 81; Miller, 62; School director, Minter, 126; Supervisor, Purvin, 75; Smith, 59; Auditor, Bowers, 154; Constable, Scott, 131; Seader, 11.

Judge of elections, Bowyer, 136. Inspector of elections, Beck, 68.

West District—Justice of peace, Welker, 127; Miller, 60; School director, Minter, 177; Supervisor, Purvin, 134; Smith, 64; Patterson, 4; Auditor, Bowers, 178; Constable, Scott, 0; Judge of elections, Fehn, 110; Pray, 79.

Inspector of elections, Simon, 182.

East District—Justice of peace, Welker, 88; Miller, 9; School director, Minter, 102; Linck, 4; Supervisor, Purvin, 86; Smith, 13; Auditor, Bowers, 91; Constable, Scott, 100.

Judge of elections, Manherz, 98. Inspector of elections, Connor, 94.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrara, Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Gaetano Greco, 337 Jefferson avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ferrara, Dorrance street.

DEFEAT CONVENTION IN BOROUGH AND TOWNSHIP

Bristol Voters Give Majority Of 389 Against Proposal

TWP. VOTE 81 AGAINST

Voters in Bristol borough as well as those in Bristol Township voted "No" on the holding of a constitutional convention at the primary election held yesterday.

Bristol borough gave a majority of 389 against the proposal, while in Bristol Township there was a majority of 81 against.

Only three of the 10 election districts in Bristol borough favored the holding of the convention. These districts are both precincts of the fourth ward, and the second precinct of the sixth ward, where majorities were given in favor of holding the convention.

The total vote in favor of holding the convention was 1,086; while those opposed tallied 1,475.

The vote in Bristol borough was as follows:

1st w., 1st p., Yes, 73; No, 166.

1st w., 2nd p., Yes, 88; No, 137.

2nd w., Yes, 136; No, 220.

3rd w., Yes, 113; No, 185.

4th w., 1st p., Yes, 155; No, 61.

4th w., 2nd p., Yes, 114; No, 75.

5th w., 1st p., Yes, 108; No, 174.

5th w., 2nd p., Yes, 90; No, 160.

6th w., 1st p., Yes, 97; No, 201.

6th w., 2nd p., Yes, 112; No, 96.

Two of the three districts in Bristol Township voted in favor of holding the convention, but the majority given in the one where those opposed voted was sufficient to overcome the lead of the other two, and the majority against the holding of the convention was 81.

The vote by districts in Bristol Township was:

Lower, Yes, 271; No, 266.

East, Yes, 167; No, 263.

West, Yes, 283; No, 273.

The total vote cast in favor of the convention was 721, while those opposing it tallied 802.

Votes in other districts:

Morrisville, 1st w., Yes, 89; No, 96.

4th w., Yes, 120; No, 100.

Lower Makefield, Yes, 42; No, 255.

Bensalem, Lower East, Yes, 195; No, 238.

Tullytown, Yes, 97; No, 71.

Hulmeville, Yes, 62; No, 162.

South Langhorne, Yes, 151; No, 149.

Newtown, 1st w., Yes, 61; No, 161.

2nd w., Yes, 60; No, 154.

SPEED

The very thought of Sir Malcolm Campbell's Bluebird racing thunderously across the level Utah salt beds at 300 miles an hour is enough to twist the nerve-ends in the average driver's scalp and send his heart into his throat in one convulsive bounce.

So great a speed is almost incredible. The Bluebird traveled at five miles a minute—a mile in 12 seconds. It is frightening to think of moving at such a speed, on the earth's surface in a man-made machine that may at any moment develop a failure in tire or steering gear or motor that will send its driver to inevitable death.

As it was, one of the Bluebird's tires did fail. The left front tube blew out. How it is possible to keep a car traveling at 300 miles an hour moving straight ahead, with a front tire flat, we do not know, but Sir Malcolm Campbell did it.

The Bluebird is a six-ton power plant on wheels, streamlined to very near the limit. Everything about it is special, tires included. For that reason Sir Malcolm's exploit seems to have little connection with the automobile the average man drives or work or takes out on the highway on a week-end holiday.

But there is a connection. It has been shown that a car can be built to travel at this terrific speed. It has been shown that it will stand the necessarily tremendous strain, if only for short distances. It has been shown that a human being can guide it.

Taken all together, the lesson seems to be that tomorrow's motor cars will be faster than today's—and today's cars are already able to go faster than it is wise to drive them. This means that the problem of speed on the highway is certain in the future to be even more pressing than it is now, when it is already sufficiently difficult.

VIVA BUREAUCRACY

NRA, which will be recalled by many without effort and without glee, is an extraordinarily lively ghost. With 3,000 employees and an annual payroll of $7,800,000 it is a startling proof of the fact that once a bureaucracy is erected, it is almost impossible to exterminate.

Laurence J. Martin, acting NRA head, says that "if there is new legislation in January we will need 3,000 on the staff to administer it," so things look bright for the 3,000 but not so bright for the taxpayer.

The NRA payroll represents 3 per cent interest on considerably more than a quarter of a billion dollars, which is paying high for a dead duck. Keeping the payroll army intact on the possibility that there may be legislation in January which may be kin enough to NRA to require so large an administrative force is like keeping your furnace burning in summer in anticipation of a cold snap next winter.

A prison warden has developed a type of cell bar which sounds an alarm when sawed. The way of the transgressor, it seems, is heard.

Cultivation is the start of soil washing, but in man's case the arrangement is just the opposite.

It has got so that when an old-fashioned citizen cries, "Great Caesar!" Il Duce takes a bow.

You can always tell what Japan is fighting for. You just wait and see what she takes.

STORE CABBAGE BY MAKING SAUERKRAUT
FOR USE IN WINTER

By Rhandena A. Armstrong
(Home Economies Representative)

Cabbage is one of the most widely used vegetables in the winter diet. One way of storing cabbage is to make sauerkraut.

Earthenware jars are the best containers for curing kraut. A two-gallon crock will hold 10 pounds or more.

Straight sided casks of cypress or white pine will serve the purpose if jars cannot be obtained, provided a layer of loose cabbage leaves is placed in the bottom and on the sides.

To make kraut, choose firm, mature heads of cabbage. Trim off the outer loose leaves and cut the heads in halves lengthwise. Remove the cores and cut the cabbage into long, fine shreds. Place a layer of shreds from four to six inches deep in the bottom of the jar and sprinkle lightly with salt at the rate of one pound to 40 pounds of cabbage. Pack, but do not bruise the layer of cabbage with a large, clean wooden weight.

Add layers of cabbage, sprinkling them with salt and packing until the jar is filled completely and the juice comes to the top of the cabbage. Cover the top with loose cabbage leaves that have been rinsed thoroughly, fit on earthenware or wooden cover inside the container, and place a clean stone on it to weight down the contents enough to bring the juice to the top of the cover but not over it. Juice covering the surface of the kraut is susceptible to the growth of yeast which will destroy the acid of the kraut. The several layers of cheese cloth over the jar as protection against dust and flies. Store in a cool, dry cellar.

From four to six weeks will be needed for curing the kraut. The product is completely cured when bubbles cease to rise to the surface of the liquid and the kraut is ready for use several days or a week later. The cabbage leaves and a thin layer of softened kraut at the top of the jar must be discarded.

When properly cured sauerkraut is white to light straw colored, and it may be taken from the jar as needed, if sufficient liquor is left to keep that remaining covered continually.

Sauerkraut is very easily and quickly digested. It contains iron and vitamins A, B, and C for growth and well-being. The juice is a nutritious and delicious drink.

HITCH-HIKING TERRIER

PASCO, Wash. — (INS)—A hitch-hiking wire-haired terrier named "Rags," who beat his way from point to point around the Northwest, is Pasco's latest oddity. Riding on the running board of automobiles which give him a lift, Rags recently has visited Olympia, Yakima and several other points. One of his rides was at a speed of better than 100 miles an hour. When the car stopped and he had a short rest, the dog nonchalantly climbed back on the running board for a return trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stark, Camden, N. J., spent Friday in Bristol visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. Skeath, Allentown, is visiting Olympia, Yakima and several other points. One of his rides was at a speed of were simultaneously lowered to their final resting place.

Lower Six Bodies To Graves Simultaneously

In the Eastern section of the one long grave was placed the body of Mr. Schoenfeld, then that of his daughter Marguerite, and of Mrs. Schoenfeld. Next were placed the remains of Mrs. Gaul, Mr. Gaul and toward the West, Mrs. Countryman. Forming a background for the six graves were scores of floral pieces, and the huge number sent by those so suddenly bereaved extended also on either side of the line of graves. Four automobiles had been required to transport the tokens.

At the cemetery a few hundred people had assembled to pay their last respects to the six who had spent many years in this locality.

Those serving as pall bearers were: Messrs. George Vincent, Samuel Booth, William Rumpf, Alexander Knox, Dwight Moyer, M. D., George Bossler.

Sears, Roebuck Observes 49th Anniversary of Business

Coincident with the observance of Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s 49th Anniversary event now in progress in Trenton, another celebration marking the opening of new testing laboratories is being held at the company's Chicago headquarters, according to Michael Keating, local representative of Sears' Trenton retail store.

"For 24 years Sears laboratories have made a scientific appraisal of the quality and utility of merchandise before it is placed in Sears stores. Hundreds of items are torn apart to see what they are made of. Other tests involve the consideration and measurement of such factors as time, temperature, humidity, pressure, speed and elasticity. The fact that items are viewed from the standpoint of service gives us the assurance that Sears' merchandise is all we claim it to be."

To reach satisfactory conclusions many items must be subjected to tests that are more extreme and severe than the merchandise might have to endure during normal use. In the new laboratories, refrigerators and other insulated items are tested in a room where the temperature can be made to equal that of a severe Antarctic night or a scorching tropical day, and the humidity can be made as wet as a dense

London fog. In another room, where fabrics are tested over long periods, the temperature and humidity will remain constant for weeks at a time.

Against Revision Proposal

(By International News Service) Up-state and rural counties almost without exception turned in majorities against the revision proposal. Anthracite counties split, Lackawanna and Carbon polling with the administration in incomplete returns while the others voted against.

This mounting tide of votes pressed down in the western end of the state where counting was slow with the force, which Allegheny county's majority for revision could not revert.

Bituminous coal counties, with the exception of Fayette, which was not heard from, surprisingly were joining the party turning in majorities against the question.

Republicans were electing to seize upon the policy as indicating the voters are turning away from the New Deal and back to the G. O. P. fold in this state of traditional Republicanism. Leaders counted the result a victory for the party because of the organized action in siding with the State

Chamber of Commerce and the State Grange in opposing the administration.

See "No's" Winning In Constitution Battle

Philadelphia, Sept. 18—The fate of the State Constitution hangs in the balance. Philadelphia voted for its revision while other counties opposed it. Philadelphia voted on the subject in the following manner: for revision, 183,229; against revision, 177,546. However, reports from upstate indicated the Constitution will be saved by a slight margin.

ARE WED

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Sept. 18—The Washington Crossing Historical Church was the scene of a wedding Saturday afternoon, when Miss Myrtle Riley, Trenton, N. J., became the bride of Kent MacDonald, Massachusetts. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis C. Thomas, pastor. Miss Myrtle Baker was the only attendant. Mr. MacDonald had as his best man, Arthur Nixon. Ushers included S. O. Maxwell and Jack Paul.

International Control Proviso

London, England, Sept. 18—International control of Ethiopia under the League of Nations auspices and an international police force, is the main provision of the League's proposal for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, Reuter's reported in a Paris dispatch today. The proposal, given to the Italian and Ethiopian delegations at Geneva today, did not provide for an Italian mandate. Reuter's reported. Reuter's reported Italian circles at Geneva were profoundly disappointed with the report of the League's committee of five and that Italy probably would reject it.

LAST CALL TO THE USED CAR ROUND-UP!

Ford Dealers are selling used cars "like hot cakes"! September has been a record-breaking used car month. The Used Car Round-up Sale has been a grand success. Ford Dealers promised a wide variety of bargains and Ford Dealers have kept their word as usual.

And here's the best news of all—for you: You can still buy a used car—almost any make—at a price that will be sweet news to your pocketbook. Easy terms. Two-day money-back guarantee. Ford Dealers are also offering bargains in used trucks and commercial cars. "All used cars must go in September!" That's what Ford Dealers said at the beginning of this Used Car Round-up Sale—and with only a few days to go, they still mean it! You don't have to be a genius to figure out what this means to you. The best way to act in your own interest is to "make a bee-line" to the nearest Ford Dealer. The corral gates are still open—walk right in and lasso for yourself a used car bargain!

Going... going—!

NEW YORK—(INS)—In and out of the shops: Suits, suits and more suits—with emphasis simply availing toward the three-quarter and three-piece affairs. One shop's pet (and our's) is a three-quarter beaver swager, swanky as the dickens, with a bright monotone wool skirt . . . while another is hallooing all over the place about its ace combine—a big-belted swagger with a bushy raccoon collar over a classic mannish two-piece suit. The coat's in rust and the suit, gray . . . and the latter can be worn right now with the coat added later and no one the wiser that it's all one outfit.

A whole floor of soldier hats is another house's pride. There's a stiff velvet with a squared visor and gold cord trim across the front—very military . . . and one of those fringed pot helmets of velvet reminding of Il Duce—plops down to the car-tops and eyebrows with four tassels hanging down directly in front. . . . Lots of pots, really, but more to our liking are the little head-hugging affairs that seem somehow Tyrolean despite all the military talk, the tiny square hats with little softly rolled brims and other off-shoots. And how we go for these anorele creations,—but spare us from the cheap versions.

Right next door to this shop—a dress salon with the most magnificent evening gown spotted dramatically. It's of softly draped white crepe with hips swathed and a daring décolletage outlined by a deep cowl. The cowl's actually a hood that turns evening wrap and covers all the nudity when pulled up. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. George Gehr, Westminster, Md., were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jeffries, Cleveland street, during the past week.

Amazing X-RAY System lets you LOOK INSIDE all low-priced cars!

It's no longer necessary to take for granted the parts of a car you can't see. The remarkable new X-Ray System will let you see with your own eyes the surprising, hidden differences in all of the low-priced cars. It will show you a graphic comparison of the vital features INSIDE! The things that low-priced cars leave out. The things that high-priced cars include. And when you see that LaFayette alone in the lowest price field has all the VITAL features of high-priced cars—then you'll see why it's easier and smarter to buy a LaFayette than any other! Each PLAYS A PART

Anything which can be done by individual effort can be done better by co-operative effort.

A Public Utility in the last analysis represents a banding together of investors, workers and consumers to the end that services of constantly increasing value may be enjoyed by the consumers.

In doing those things which no one individual could do alone, the Utility likewise performs an economic service of immense value in providing employment for men, money and materials.

You are a part of your Utility and all that it does for the general interest.

Pepping Up the Cubs

By BURNLEY

One of the year's big surprises has been the sterling work both at bat and in the field of the unheralded Augie Galan, pint-sized fly chaser of Cholly Grimm's Chicago Cubs.

Galan, who came up from San Francisco as an infielder, was merely scheduled for bench duty as Bill Herman's understudy at second base; but a sudden inspiration caused Grimm to shift Little Augie to an outfield post. Charley is still patting himself on the back for this move, which worked out much better than he ever dreamed at the time. For Galan not only has made good in the outer garden, he has actually become the spark plug of the team, with his steady, dependable play and penchant for coming through in the clutch.

The Cubs, it must be remembered, have in late years shown a distressing tendency to dog it, or to put it more politely, to fold up in the stretch. Young Galan is a potent antidote to any team suffering from this recurrent malady, for Augie is a money player if ever there was one; a kid who revels in the tough going and who likes it best when playing under the greatest pressure.

Augie has been compared to "Safety Pin" Joe Moore, lean outfielder of the Giants, whose dependability and tenacious aggressiveness are well known. Grimm freely admits that most of the credit for his team's gallant flag fight this season is due to Galan and Billy Herman, the sensational second sacker, who is easily the outstanding man in the circuit at the midway post.

Whether or not the Cubs are able to beat out either those belligerent Cardinals or the still stubborn Giants remains to be seen, but if the Bruins fold up again it won't be the fault of doughty Little Augie Galan.

WATCHING HEART AT WORK

MOSCOW, (INS)—A method of watching the working of the living heart with the aid of X-rays has been discovered by Maria Ukolova, a young doctor at the Sverdlovsk Institute of Experimental Medicine. Until now it has not been possible to see the inside of the living heart as the X-rays, passing through the heart, left on the screen nothing but a distorted shadow.

FARSIGHTED INVALID

WASHINGTON, Ia.—(INS)—When doctors told Ernest Lemmon to stay out of doors five years ago he bought 9 acres of land and planted 6,000 walnut trees. Now they are from seven to fifteen feet high, and he declares his children can sell them for more than $100,000 in 35 years.

ST. ANN'S GRIDDERS TO END PRACTICE THURSDAY

The St. Ann's gridders are putting the finishing touches on their training season and will end practice Thursday night for their opening game which will be played this Sunday on the "Saints" field.

Coach "Bill" Dougherty feels satisfied with the showing made by the candidates and the progress they have made in gathering the signals and style of play. Coach Dougherty will use the Bristol High School system of playing this season which will mean that the plays will be mostly defensive and not so much power-plays as St. Ann's used for several seasons.

St. Ann's will play Bridesburg in its opening contest and the workers on the gridiron are rushing to have the field in shape for the game.

PENNSYLVANIA'S SPORTS PULSE

By VIC JACOBS
(N. S. Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18—(INS)—Sports Pulse's debut finds middle-weight champion Teddy Yarosz still tied down to arduous training at the Alum Rock Park camp near his Monaca home, for the title fight Thursday night in Pittsburgh against "Babe" Risko. Trainer Ray Arcel even refused Ted time out to drop in on the marriage party of his sister, Victoria, the other night to congratulate the couple. . . . Arcel is the famed trainer who handled Jimmy Braddock's workouts for the last heavy-weight championship. . . . Ex-sailor Risko, the Syracuse mauler, still confident he is the champion's master, is busy conditioning in a Pittsburgh gym.

Scholastic football, budding in the practice gridirons for the past three weeks, has blossomed into full bloom. High school elevens at all points of the compass in the state, with the usual few exceptions, rode onto the field and into the thick of their respective grid wars.

A different title aspect has cropped up in the WPIAL, western Pennsylvania portion of the State Interscholastic League, due to reclassification of schools. . . . Membership of the class AA division of the WPIAL has been almost trebled over its former personnel of 12 member teams under the new setup. . . . Phil Bridenbaugh's New Castle aggregation had been champions of the double-A group but Scott Hi of North Braddock, rulers of class A, moved into the higher bracket on the basis of mounting enrollment and caused an adjustment in the challenge ranks. . . .

Erie's women bowlers, one of the state's better organized groups of feminine "alley" fans, have adopted a new handicap system to govern competition on a 60 per cent. basis and give all women bowlers an equal chance. . . .

"BOY, WHAT A RIDE."

Boy, what a wonderful ride we had On the great, big Government bus!

We dashed through Stations C. P. D. And H and Y and R. I. P. But when we wanted to alight The driver shouted "That ain't right!"

On, on, we rode, o'er hill and dale, In that wonderful Government trolley; We dashed through Poverty and Crime And Currency and Minority, And called all question folly.

Where we were headed nobody knew But the driver promised to see us through, And my! it was fun, as we rode along Singing the latest popular song.

With F. R. holding tight to the wheel Cheering us up with a rad-io spiel!

But at last she slows, our wonderful bus, The driver smiles but the passengers curse.

The gas is gone, she's plumb run dry, She stops and lurches, and heaves a sigh—

Yank and tug as he very well may, F. R.'s trolley is stuck to stay!

"Oh, well, me lads," the driver cries, "We'll try a little different brand. Push her to Station S. O. S."

We'll tank her up with another mess— Shove hard, me hearties, my job's at stake, Give Papa Alphabet a break."

"We'll never ride in your bus again, So pull her in and forget her, Pa. She's a crazy bus, an' she's off the track, She's had her run, but she won't run back.

She smashed some records but now she's thru Thanks for the lift, an' toodle-oo!"

New Diesel Giant for THE CHIEF

The Santa Fe announces that it has just taken delivery of the most powerful Diesel locomotive ever placed in service. The new giant, if exhaustive tests prove successful, will haul the road's crack flier, The Chief, long the fastest train between Chicago and California, on a much swifter schedule than at present.

The Santa Fe's new "power house on wheels" is 127 feet long, weighs 240 tons, and is conservatively rated at 3,600 horsepower. The big Diesel is made up of two identical units that can be operated either singly or coupled together. The motive power of each unit is supplied by two Winton V-type, 12-cylinder high compression, two-cycle oil engines. Each engine is rated at 900 horsepower. A comparatively inexpensive Diesel fuel oil is used.

A new feature of this locomotive is a special steam generating unit for heating and air-conditioning the cars of the train. The cost of the new locomotive is said to have been $360,000.
